

ALARMING REPORTS FROM MEXICO

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., April 24.—Alarming reports of open Carranzista hostility toward the American troops in Mexico reached the border today. A rumor was brought from Juarez early this forenoon that a large force of Carranza troops attacked a small body of American soldiers near Satero on Sunday and that in the battle which followed many were killed or injured.

Attempts to confirm this rumor at General Gavira's headquarters in Juarez failed, the Carranza leader stating that he had received no "official" word of any conflict.

Satero is north of Parral and is the point to which the American troops fell back after the bloody encounter at Parral.

The Mexican situation is now entering its second and more serious phase. The decision of the United States government to keep up the hunt for Francisco Villa, in defiance of the demands of the de facto Mexican government is expected to force the hand of the Mexican officials.

Complete evidence of this was given by notification from General Luis Carranza, military commander of the state of Chihuahua, that if American troops attempted to move south of the points where they are now concentrated they will be subjected to attack by Carranza forces. General Gutierrez sent his warning to United States Consul Marion Letcher at Chihuahua City to be transmitted to the American government.

Consul Letcher is reported to have sent the information given him to Washington immediately over the Mexican telegraph lines.

The warning from Gutierrez, in the opinion of officers at Fort Bliss, rendered the situation most critical, coming at the moment when Carranzista officials were awaiting President Wilson's formal reply to the demand that American troops be withdrawn.

Mexico City dispatches state that General Alvaro Obregon, minister of war in the Carranza government and virtual dictator of Mexico, is coming to the border to confer with Major General Funston but it is feared here that the Carranza forces in the north will get beyond control before Obregon can arrive. In the meantime General Luis Herrera, the "gringo hater," is gathering strong Carranza forces about him in the vicinity of Chihuahua.

WILL NOT RECALL TROOPS FROM MEXICO

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 24.—Satisfied that the American punitive expedition into Mexico cannot be recalled under existing conditions, even though a break with Carranza shall result from keeping the troops there, the administration was today concerning itself with the problem of getting additional troops for border service. The 4,000 infantry and cavalry still in northern posts are expected to be ordered south at once. This, however, will not furnish sufficient forces and army officials are debating whether it is best to call upon the coast artillery for its spare men, organized as infantry, or to accept the picked columns of National Guardsmen who are besieging the war department for the opportunity to see service.

The troops now in the field are in a bad way through shortage of supplies of every character. Because of this pressure is being brought to bear upon the state department to force concessions from Carranza. An important exchange of messages is in progress between Secretary Lansing and Consul General Rodgers at Mexico City dealing with the entire proposition, but all information regarding what is wanted is withheld. There is no doubt that the administration is making another determined effort to get the de facto government of Mexico to see things through its glasses and to consent to the use of the Mexican railways to supply the American forces.

It is also known that Consul General Rodgers again has been instructed to make it plain to General Carranza that if his forces get Villa then the American expedition will be withdrawn forthwith, but that it cannot be recalled while the bandits are at large and presumably recruiting a new and stronger band with which to attack Americans so soon as their guard is back beyond the Mexican border.

Carranza has demanded that the United States reply to his note demanding the withdrawal of the American troops before he will discuss any other matter, but there was a strong disposition in evidence in official quarters today to disregard this demand and to continue the pressure to have him meet the American viewpoint.

Although the regular cabinet meeting scheduled for tomorrow was called off because President Wilson decided to go to Princeton to vote, he will get the views of Secretaries Lansing and Baker on the latest developments in the Mexican situation before leaving and will authorize such action as they deem best.

GERMAN BANKERS WILL CONTROL REPLY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 24.—Germany's merchant princes and bankers, the men who have made the financing of the war to date possible, will have the last say in the relations of that nation with the United States. Confidential advices received here today show that the Kaiser and the imperial chancellor have sought advice from the big business men who have been directing the German financial policy. They are inquiring what effect a diplomatic break with the United States will have on Germany's economic future. It is expected here that upon their decision will hinge whether President Wilson's ultimatum demanding cessation of present submarine methods against merchant vessels is accepted or rejected.

It was officially stated today that so far no authentic information had been received by Ambassador Gerard as to the expected stand of the German government. He has sent a summary of editorial comment, and a definite account of his reception at the Berlin foreign office. But he has emphasized that the decision of the German empire will be reached by the emperor himself and that no one has any idea as yet what the decision will be.

It is understood here that by direction of the president, Ambassador Gerard has made it very plain to the German foreign office that this government cannot consent to any long drawn out parleys over the latest note. It calls for a direct answer, the foreign office has been told, and nothing but such a reply will be received as satisfactory.

A matter of grave concern in official circles today was the reported sinking of four more vessels by German submarines. It is accepted everywhere as a fact that if there is a single violation of American rights while the present negotiations are on, that, so soon as the proof is in the hands of the state department, a diplomatic break will be ordered. Officials do not try to disguise their belief that this is the most serious outstanding danger at the present moment.

So far as the question of getting Americans out of Germany in case of a break is concerned, officials say there is no need to worry on that score. Emergency arrangements were made by Ambassador Gerard at the time the Lusitania was sunk, and these arrangements continue in effect. The Berlin embassy has plenty of emergency funds on hand. But according to an advice reaching here Americans consider themselves perfectly safe under present conditions and are showing no desire to leave Germany at all.

GERMAN REPLY IN 48 HOURS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Berlin, April 24.—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Imperial chancellor, is expected to confer today with James W. Gerard, the United States ambassador, and it is believed that the German reply to the ultimatum of the United States will have been sent to Washington before forty-eight hours elapse.

Since the chancellor returned from great headquarters, where he conferred with the Kaiser, speculation as to the German reply has been general but no one undertook to prophesy definitely what attitude Germany would adopt.

Dr. von Jagow, the foreign minister, has a mass of data before him and it was considered likely that he too would confer with Mr. Gerard either today or this evening.

There was a disposition on the part of some to believe that Germany would make concessions if the United States would guarantee to exact concessions from the allies. Germany has contended all along that the British blockade is illegal and that the allies are just as guilty of infringements of the laws of humanity as the enemies of the entente powers because they are aiming at the starvation of the women and children of the Central Empires by cutting off food supplies.

However, the latest American note has apparently left little ground for the hope of such a compromise. Many publicists and statesmen advance the opinion that Germany needs the friendship of the United States and that the empire can little afford to lose the hundred million dollars' worth of German ships now in American ports. If there should be a break these vessels would unquestionably be seized by the United States.

The loss of shipping, however, is a small matter compared with the economic strength and military power which the United States could give to the allies. Considering the difficult situation and the possibilities that exist there was naturally an under current of opinion that higher statesmanship would find a way of preventing a reinforcement of the dangers that confront the Teutonic allies.

No Game Sunday.

Owing to the disagreeable weather the newly organized Kingston baseball team did not open the season at McVey's field on Sunday afternoon as expected as the Mercury A. C. of Newburgh, who was to cross bats with them, failed to show up.

BRIDGE BIDS $40,000 MORE THAN ESTIMATE SO ALL ARE REJECTED

Modified Plans Would Not Reduce Cost Enough to Bring It Within the Available Funds--Nearly $300,000 to be Frittered Away and No Bridge to be Built Unless Immediate Action is Taken--Could Not Kingston and Esopus Raise the $40,000?

Dilatory tactics of the state highway department in making surveys and re-surveys for the proposed Port Ewen bridge over Rondout creek in this city have held up the work so long that increased construction costs made the bids some $40,000 in excess of the state appropriation. As a result the bids opened Thursday at Albany have been rejected and Kingston today stands almost assured of the loss of this magnificent improvement as the available moneys are now likely to be turned over to building state trunk highways elsewhere.

All of the tenders opened on Thursday have been thrown out by the commission because of being in excess of the departmental appropriation for the work. The highway authorities had set aside $299,300 for the bridge and approaches, which figure includes the expenses of engineering and inspection, an item roughly figured at $20,000.

The low bid made by Larkin & Sangster, $320,881, was for the actual work only and the difference between that and the department's budget item is approximately $40,000 when the engineering and inspection items are included.

"All bids were rejected," was the brief reply made by Secretary Irving J. Morris, of the highway commission, in response to a long distance telephone query from The Freeman this morning as to the status of the bridge.

Continuing, he stated that the bids were all too high, being too far in excess of the department's estimates as outlined in the summary of its action above.

"Can't the specifications be modified," was the next question asked, was the secretary's reply, the custom being to modify plans only where the difference between the appropriation and the low bid is but a few thousand dollars. In this case, the modification would have to represent a cut of nearly $40,000 and this would not be at all feasible for the type of structure needed.

Asked as to the future use of the $299,300 set apart for the Port Ewen bridge, Secretary Morris stated that this sum had been allotted to Ulster county for the construction of state highways as a part of which the bridge was to be constructed.

Asked as to what highways this money would be diverted, the secretary replied that the commissioner had not yet decided that question.

Can the Localities Help?

News of the action of the state highway authorities was received with acute dismay by a number of leading citizens of Kingston today and there was a very general expression of a hope that something could be done immediately before all prospect of this $300,000 state aid to such an important project had vanished. It is likely, judging from statements made, that some effort will be made to the end of securing joint action by the city and town of Esopus to make up the deficit for the bridge appropriation.

It was pointed out that for more than a half century there has been agitation and widespread demand for a bridge connecting Rondout and Port Ewen, but the project has always failed to materialize because of the tremendous expense involved. Now, however, with the opportunity present for getting a handsome bridge of the latest type for an expenditure of less than $400,000 on the part of the two communities benefited, action toward a bond issue or some other form of granting this part of the construction cost is looked for if the State Highway Commission will take a receptive attitude on such proposition.

The loss of a $300,000 state highway bridge, which the city had every reason to expect would be built this year, is far from being viewed with equanimity and some form of popular expression on the subject is anticipated.

Last Chance to Get a Bridge.

The state of New York is spending its second fifty million dollars for good roads. It is not likely that any more big appropriations like that will be voted by the people because the cost of construction per mile has increased and the results of much road construction have been unsatisfactory.

Unless the funds available now for the construction of the Sleightsburgh bridge are used for that purpose, the chances of another appropriation to build it are slight, even though it is designated in the state highway law as part of one of the state highway routes. If the fund is not tied up in some manner until it can be used for the purpose of building the bridge it is more than likely to be frittered away. It has been suggested that if the state waits a sufficiently long time—possibly a year—for the price of materials to come down, the bridge can be built within the estimate. Possibly that may be true, but there is no assurance that when the cost of materials does come down—if prices do come down instead of going up still farther—the fund now available will not have been used for other purposes, and in that event there will be no bridge.

Is the bridge desirable enough to justify the communities affected—the city of Kingston, the towns or the county—raising the additional $40,000 required to complete the bridge? If so, is there not a way of tying up the funds already available until such sum can be raised? If the city of Kingston, the towns and the county of Ulster are willing to do their part with the state highway department keep faith with the people, not only of Ulster county, but with the automobile owners of the entire state?

These propositions were asked of several Kingstonians today by The Freeman, to determine what the sentiment in this city is. The precise situation, as obtained earlier in the day by The Freeman from the state highway department at Albany, was explained.

Mr. Bogart's Views.

Elva H. Bogart, president of the Ulster County Automobile Club, said: "The bridge must not be allowed to go by the board. Some plan must be devised to build it and save the appropriation which was made for the bridge so that it will be used for that purpose and no other. The county of Ulster already has expended a considerable sum of money to obtain rights of way and property necessary for construction and if the bridge is not built that money will be lost. These appropriations were made in good faith and relying on the good faith of the state. Having put in this amount of money, the county cannot afford to let the matter drop. The county is in the same situation of a man who starts to build a house. He buys the lot and begins building, but he does not stop because the cost exceeds somewhat the amount he intended to spend originally, especially if someone else has set aside a certain amount which is to go toward the principal cost of construction."

"If the bridge cannot be built within the estimate, and appropriation on account of the increased cost of materials, it might be possible to wait a year because I believe that in that time there will be a substantial reduction in the cost of steel, cement and other materials. But in the meantime, the funds available should not be used for any other purpose whatever. They should be saved for the bridge and that alone."

"If it does not appear that any reduction of considerable amount can be saved by changing the plans and specifications, and that the bridge will not be built unless the city, the towns and county make up the difference, personally I am in favor of the county raising that additional money, and I believe that the people of the county will favor it, rather than see the money they have already expended lost, especially when the money already has been appropriated for the principal cost and the law includes the Sleightsburgh bridge as part of the highway system for which the people have voted millions. The benefit to every community in Ulster county will be so great by reason of the construction of the bridge that no part of the money needed to build the bridge should be held back, as a business proposition if for no other reason."

"Be Prompt," Says Elting.

Chairman Philip Elting of the Republican County Committee, who has been unremitting in his efforts to procure the bridge since its construction was first proposed and has succeeded in bringing the project forward in spite of obstacles, said: "As the highway law now stands, there is nothing else for the Highway Department to do except to reject the bids. I have done all that I can do, but am ready to aid in anything which can be accomplished. It seems to me the only things to do are either to revise the plans so as to bring the cost within the estimate, or else raise the money, and to do either of them as quickly as possible. Prompt action is necessary."

CONSCRIPTION CRISIS REVIVES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, April 24.—The crisis confronting the British government over the universal conscription will again be roused into life tomorrow when parliament will convene in secret session to define a definite policy.

While the deliberations will be kept secret, it is accepted as a foregone conclusion that the supporters of David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, will carry their fight against the Asquith cabinet into parliament.

The opening gun was fired today by John Norton Griffiths, a Unionist member of parliament, who denounced the ministry for "calmly adjourning parliament over Easter and leaving the most momentous decision in history in the balance."

Mr. Griffiths is advocating Mr. Lloyd-George for premier and also the establishing of an imperial council, made up of the premiers of the Overseas dominions to stand firmly behind the government.

Leaders of the labor parties, who are not connected with the government as a member of any of its branches, are viewing the secret session of parliament with distrust. Secretary of deliberations on a question affecting the national life, the laborites hold, is only second in importance to the danger that it is conscription.

The labor situation is causing unrest and there is anxiety that an extension of conscription may have an effect which statesmen are most anxious to avoid.

SCOTT TO CONFER WITH OBREGON

By Telegram to The Freeman.

San Antonio, Texas, April 24.—Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, will confer at Eagle Pass, Tex., with General Alvaro Obregon, minister of war in the Carranza cabinet. Official announcement of this fact was made at Fort Sam Houston today.

The result of this conference is expected to determine the future attitude of the American government with reference to keeping American troops in Mexico and continuing the hunt for Francisco Villa.

The news that Obregon and not General Carranza would come to the border to conduct the negotiations by which the Mexican government hopes to secure the withdrawal of the American expedition strengthened the belief that the Mexican war minister had broken with the first chief.

General Scott said he did not know when the conference with Obregon would take place. It is more than 1,000 miles from Mexico City to Eagle Pass and it is probable that Obregon cannot reach the border before Saturday.

Major General Funston said today that he was without any information as to the reported fight between American and Carranza soldiers near Satero, but admitted that the rumors coming from Mexican sources might have reached the border before any report from General Pershing, who has not been heard from for 24 hours.

The little town of Eagle Pass, Texas, which has been selected as the meeting place of General Scott and General Obregon for the conference that will determine the future of the American expedition in Mexico, is on the Rio Grande river 168 miles by rail southwest of San Antonio. General Obregon's temporary headquarters probably will be established at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, formerly known as Piedras Negras, just across the Rio Grande. The Mexican town is on the Mexican international railway, 1,008 miles from Mexico City.

Recital at Highland.

An organ recital under the direction of the Choral Union will be given by Clarence Reynolds, the well known organist of Ocean Grove and Philadelphia, at the Presbyterian Church in Highland on Wednesday evening, April 26. Mr. Reynolds will be assisted by Owen Hughes, a tenor soloist, of Haverstraw.

"ASK WASHINGTON" SAYS GEN. SCOTT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

San Antonio, Tex., April 24.—All hope of the immediate capture of Francisco Villa, dead or alive, has been abandoned by the American expedition which entered Mexico for the one purpose of destroying the scourge of the border. This much was admitted today by army officers when they found that General Pershing's punitive expedition has been turned into a defensive organization.

The Washington announcement that General Funston's recommendations for a "redirection" of the American troops in Mexico had been approved was taken here to indicate that conditions south of the border would soon become similar to those which preceded the withdrawal from Vera Cruz.

It is expected that General Funston will soon leave for the border and that Major General Scott, chief of staff, will remain here. General Scott has altered his plans for immediate return to Washington.

If Funston goes south he probably will go into Mexico to inspect the American positions there. He has as yet received no official notice that General Obregon, Mexican minister of war, is coming to the border to confer with him.

While admitting that the pursuit of Villa was at a standstill, if not absolutely abandoned, General Scott today failed to make clear the object of retaining troops in Mexico. When asked the purpose of the decision reached at Washington, he replied: "Ask Washington."

In reply to an inquiry as to whether the resolve to keep the United States troops in Mexico meant ultimate intervention, General Scott said:

"Ask Washington."

His reticence was fully equalled by that of Gen. Funston.

Fort Sam Houston was a scene of unusual activity as soon as the sun rose. Supply trains were being hurriedly loaded with camp equipment on the side tracks at the post.

The Sixth U. S. Cavalry passed through here early in the day en route to Columbus, N. M. Practically all the troops called to reinforce the expedition in Mexico are now moving. Some have already passed the border.

FORMER KINGSTON STUDENT SUICIDE

Attorney David C. Scott of Newburgh Shot Himself With Rifle in His Office—Formerly Principal of School at Highland.

Attorney David Craig Scott of Newburgh, formerly principal of Highland school and once a law student in Kingston, told Newburgh friends last week that when men were in his condition of health they blew their brains out. He suited the action to his words Friday afternoon in his law office, shooting himself with a small "take down" rifle. He lived but a half hour afterward, the bullet passing through his skull.

For some weeks past Mr. Scott had been in a melancholic state, believing himself to be suffering from an incurable disease. He had talked with several friends as to his condition but none was aware that the matter had preyed so heavily on his mind.

Mr. Scott came to Newburgh in April, 1901, as instructor in Latin and Greek in the Newburgh Academy, a position which he held until June, 1908, when he took up the practice of law in Newburgh, he having been admitted to the bar the previous year. He was a native of Delaware county, where he was graduated from the Andes Collegiate Institution. Having won the competitive scholarship from Delaware county in Cornell University, he entered that institution in 1892, graduating in 1897, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, having included a year in the Cornell College of Law. At the university he is said to have been active in classical, debating and athletic circles. He was a member of the Classical Association, Cornell Congress, George William Curtis Club and an oarsman in the '97 crew.

Studied Law in Kingston.

During the two years that followed the completion of his college course he was principal of the Union School, Highland, N. Y., later taking up the study of law in the office of Judge John G. Van Van Etten in Kingston. Newburgh was his home thereafter. He was a member of the Newburgh Scottish Society, the Knights of Pythias, Hudson River Lodge, No. 607, F. & A. M., and Lawson Rose Company. He had local attorney for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for half a dozen years.

A sister, Miss A. M. Scott, a school teacher in New York, came to Newburgh Saturday morning and arranged for the removal of the body to the family home in Andes, Delaware county.

HAITI VISITED BY AN EARTHQUAKE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Santo Domingo, April 24.—Severe earthquake shocks caused heavy damage throughout the island of Haiti last night and early today. Communication with interior points was broken off and it is feared there has been heavy loss of life.

The tremors began before midnight, but the most severe shock occurred early today. Many houses were razed. The government buildings were shaken.

GUARD MAY MOBILIZE WEEK OF MAY 20

Mobilization of the entire National Guard of New York state is possible during the week of May 20-27, during which time the First and Second Brigades, consisting of New York city and Long Island regiments, will be mobilized at short notice at Sheepshead Bay in order to determine in a practical manner in how short a time an armed force could be gathered to repel an invasion by a foreign enemy. The legislature appropriated sufficient funds during the last days of its session last week to provide for military maneuvers and for that reason it is not unlikely that a practical demonstration of the efficiency of the guard will be made.

The plans announced for the First and Second Brigades are similar to the maneuvers followed by the French army when the Germans made their first drive at Paris. When that occurred, every automobile and truck, every horse and horse-drawn vehicle fit for service, and every other conveyance of any kind was seized wherever found and pressed into service. The French army, which had been hastily mobilized, was rolled to the front in automobiles and big busses, following which came trucks carrying ammunition, food and such other supplies as could be gathered hastily. Paris was saved that day by automobiles.

In conformity with the plan adopted by the New York National Guard authorities, automobile and auto truck owners in New York are to be ordered by request into the service of the military authorities for the Sheepshead Bay maneuvers.

The mobilization probably will take place on Sunday, May 21. The National Guard is to be divided into automobiles and motor trucks and with the troops will go camp equipage. The first regiment to reach the ground which has been chosen for defense probably will be the Fourteenth Regiment of Brooklyn and immediately on their arrival the members of that organization will be expected to "dig in" and hold the ground until the Seventh, the Sixty-ninth, the Twenty-third, the Seventy-first, the Forty-seventh, the Twenty-second Engineers and the other organizations can go to their relief. Speed laws will be disregarded and the roads leading from Brooklyn to Sheepshead Bay will be ordered cleared of ordinary traffic to make way for the movement of the troops. Car owners in New York have been requested to help in the movement and blanks are being supplied to automobile and truck owners who will assist.

WHAT WILL BE DONE WITH BUNKER

Burning Question of the Hour Among J. D. Schoonmaker's Friends As to What He Will Do With the Bunker Explained.

Ever since John D. Schoonmaker purchased the steam yacht Bunker from Palmer A. Canfield he has been besieged with questions from his friends what he intended doing with the yacht. In order to settle this burning question which has shored the Mexican situation and the war in Europe in the background Mr. Schoonmaker was questioned regarding the matter and said that he would probably place the Bunker on the east branch of the Neversink and engage in business there. Senator Walton has been offered the position of first officer and Captain Everett Fowler, because of his ability in handling machinery, automobiles and automobile shows, will probably secure the position of engineer.

Just when the Bunker will be put into commission is not known as owing to the fact that the senator is busily engaged with his political duties and Mr. Fowler with other important matters they have not had time to give the matter serious consideration.

Walter promised to get aboard the water wagon if allowed to go and the court decided to give him another chance.

NEW PALTZ ROAD IN BETTER SHAPE

One of the best roads in this neighborhood is that from Kingston to New Paltz, which is in far better condition than some of the principal streets of this city. There is much activity at Bontecoe, where New York capitalists are putting up a four story hotel on the westerly slope of the mountain, facing the Wallkill. When completed it will accommodate about three hundred guests. All the timber and lumber for the building was cut upon the property, and sawed at the old Bontecoe saw mill where a mill has been operated by the fall of the Swartskill for over two hundred years. Oscar Tschirky is enlarging his cluster of chicken houses at Springtown, and a new barn is building on the Dimmock property.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1593, Waist. 1591, Skirt.—A Smart Costume For Many Occasions.

Composed of ladies' waist pattern 1593 and ladies' skirt pattern 1594. This combination is especially nice for mature figures. The waist is made with full fronts that are finished with revers portions and open over a vest that may be of lace embroidery or matched satin. The skirt has six gores and shaped trimming sections over the fronts. As here illustrated, brown novelty suiting was used with velvet for trimming. Blue serge with matched satin is also good. If desired, the waist and skirt may be made as separate garments. Silk or crepe could be employed for the waist and broadcloth serge or gabardine for the skirt. The pattern for the waist is cut in 6 sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. The skirt pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for the waist, and 4 yards of 44 inch material for the skirt for a medium size. The skirt measures 3 1/2 yards at the lower edge. To make the skirt and waist of one material will require 8 yards of 36 inch material.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps, by The Freeman Pattern Department, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

The KITCHEN CABINET

A word of appreciation in the home often works wonders. Nothing is more ungracious than passing over without remark and apparently without thought the many little efforts and attentions which are intended to sweeten domestic life.

WAYS WITH VEGETABLES.

The need of vegetables in our diet is one which is well recognized by all who study the needs of the body. The elements we get from vegetables which they take from the soil keep the blood in good condition and help in the resistance of disease.

Cabbage should always be cooked uncovered to allow the escape of the gases which cause intestinal trouble, and it also, when unconfined by cover, leaves a less objectionable odor in the house. Drop the sliced cabbage into rapidly boiling water and let it cook well until tender, then drain and serve with butter and vinegar, salt and pepper.

Paranips.—Cook paranips until tender in boiling salted water, then drain and cool. When it is time for the meal, cut in halves and fry in butter on both sides until brown. Sprinkle a very little sugar over them to insure a nice brown surface. Baked paranips, mashed and mixed with fritter batter, then fried in deep fat is another much liked dish.

Onions With Apples.—Fried onions are so rich and indigestible, but with a little taste, that one dislikes to eliminate them from the diet. When cooked with tart apples, using one part onion to two parts apples the dish is quite so palatable and more digestible. Put a small amount of drippings in the frying pan, add the sliced onion and brown a little, then add the apple and a small amount of boiling water, a sprinkling of sugar, salt and pepper and cook until all are well done. This dish may be baked in the oven and requires less care.

Potatoes a la Maitre d'Hotel.—Usually new potatoes are served in this manner, but freshly cooked diced potatoes are also good. Cook the potatoes until tender, drain them, then toss them in melted butter, well mixed with minced parsley, adding lemon juice to taste, season with salt and cayenne and serve hot.

A pot of parsley may be grown all the year around so that one may have the touch of flavor for various dishes as well as for garnishing.

Albany, April 24.—In a statement made public today by Governor Whitman the executive says that United States Supreme Justice Charles E. Hughes is the logical Republican candidate for president. Governor Whitman adds that the fact that he himself leads all other candidates for delegates at large to the national convention, was due to his frequently stated preference for Justice Hughes.

Does Newspaper Advertising Pay?

A large paint manufacturer asked this question of retailers throughout the country.

NO. 6 SAID:

"In my opinion newspaper advertising is the best means of publicity available. In my fourteen years of business for myself I think the money I have put into newspaper advertising has brought me greater results as a trade getter than any money spent in any other mode of advertising."

"It is very difficult to figure direct results from any advertising, but I certainly think the papers have helped immensely."

Symphony's Easter Concert.

If the program of the Symphony Orchestra Concert which will be given tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Kingston Opera House had been especially arranged for the Easter season, it could not have included more beautiful music than it does. Perhaps no other composer so demands purity of tone, cleanness of ensemble and fine phrasing, as does "Papa" Haydn, and the orchestra at its final rehearsal played the great Haydn Symphony No. 9 in C Minor in a thoroughly gratifying manner. But it was in the Schumann Concert that the players showed an appreciation of the inner beauty of the work and gave expression to the same in a truly artistic manner, going right to the heart of the music. Those who have heard the orchestra before, will be surprised at the added "temperament," which the organization has developed, and those who have never heard our musicians but expect to do so tomorrow, will be, as others have been, astonished beyond measure at the orchestral body that Kingston can boast of. Tomorrow's audiences will further be delighted with play of Mrs. Perlina Hendricks Wood who will be the piano soloist.

As this is vacation week, the Symphony Society expects a large attendance of pupils from the Public Schools, the Parochial School, and among music students is expected at the Public Rehearsal in the afternoon, beginning at three o'clock. Parents are reminded of this concert, which will prove in and of itself a liberal musical education, for which the children are to pay only ten cents at the door, at the Opera House, as no special tickets were given out. The inspiration of such a concert may go through an entire life-time, and any boy or girl hearing such music in the formative period of their lives will have something beautiful and uplifting to take them for all time.

WILLIAM M. JOHNSTON

TENNIS CHAMPION HAS NOVEL TRAINING STUNT.

William M. Johnston, national tennis champion in singles and doubles, has sprung an innovation in training. Haid on the heels of discouraging reports from the Pacific coast concerning his indifferent play comes word that Johnston recently asked Frank Foster, coach of the Olympic A. C. of Frisco, to devise a system of indoor gymnastics and outdoor running that would be beneficial in speeding up for tennis.

Foster worked out a plan on a graduated income basis. The better the condition of the champion, the higher is Foster's emolument therefor. In addition to his tennis ability, Johnston is a coking runner and much of his training consists of sprinting.

Young People's Temperance Rally.

The Young People's Branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Ulster, Delaware, Greene and Orange counties are holding a group meeting at Walden in the Methodist Episcopal Church on Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Alice Crispell of New Paltz is the group leader. Mrs. Crispell is secretary of the Young People's Branch of Ulster county. The following Ulster county people will take part in the program: Mrs. J. J. Rose of Highland, corresponding secretary of Ulster County W. C. T. U., who will respond to the address of welcome; Mrs. Martha H. Bell of Milton, president of Ulster County W. C. T. U., who will give a Bible reading; Mrs. M. L. Stephens, Gardiner, vice president of Ulster County W. C. T. U., who will read a paper on "The Value of the Department of Medical Temperance," and the Rev. George H. Scofield of Highland, president of the C. E. Union, who will address the evening session. The state motto of the Y. P. B. is "It is glorious to man a life boat, but better to build a light house," and their rally cry, "New York! New York! Y. P. B. 1920. Don't you see? Can we do it? Well I guess. Pray for it. Work for it. Yes! Yes! Yes!"

Pictures at the Auditorium.

Commencing today, Paramount, Metro, and Bix Four productions will be shown at the Y. M. C. Auditorium, arrangements having been made with the Kingston Opera House to show them. Assistant Secretary Sunstator, who has been manager of the auditorium since pictures were first shown on the screen there, will remain in charge, having supervision of all details connected with the showing of the pictures. Patron of the rail were delighted to know that Manager Gundersen of the opera house and Mr. Sunstator had co-operated and there is little doubt that the well ventilated and comfortable auditorium will be well filled at each of the performances hereafter. It is planned that music will be supplied by a ladies' orchestra to accompany the high class pictures to be shown.

Impressive Service at Holy Spirit.

An especially impressive service was held at the Church of the Holy Spirit on Easter Sunday evening.

When Rondout Commandery, No. 52, and Ronan Lodge, No. 343, attended the service in a body. There was special Easter music, including a fine Easter Anthem sung during the offertory, in which Raymond Senter, boy soprano, sang very sweetly, an incidental solo. The Rev. John J. Bott, rector of the church, preached a virile, stirring and inspiring sermon, taking for his text, II Corinthians, V. 1. "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

The Biggest Lathe.

By Telegram to the Freeman.

Albany, April 24.—Work is being done at the United States arsenal at Watervliet, for the installation of the largest lathe ever made. When it is in place Uncle Sam will be able to turn out sixteen inch guns.

Time's Changes.

Poor old Cato meant well no doubt, but he was horribly ignorant of the proprieties, having advised "that the farm buildings be well constructed, that you should have ample oil cellar and wine vats, and a good supply of casks so that you can wait for high prices, something that will rebound to your honor, your profit and your self-respect." He had Hoboken in mind, but we Americans do not farm in North Dakota and Kansas, where the vat four-inch no. nor perch the oak above the lowly ground.—Springfield Republican.

Street Where Sister Looked.

"Say, mister, where do you live?" inquired the small brother of the lady whom Mr. Black had called to pay his weekly obligations to. "At 456 Grand avenue," replied the young man. "Why do you ask?" "Oh, well," retorted the young hopeful, "big sister is wrong then, 'cause she has had pa looking you up in 'Bradstreet.'"

The attitude of Germany toward the latest American note to the Imperial Government on the U-boat question will determine whether Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to Washington, will remain at his post, or be recalled at the request of the United States government.

Word From Headquarters.

"When, where and how will the war end?" "I don't know," replied the landlord of the Pelonia tavern. "However, the young ladies and gents of the senior class of the village academy, several of whom are over sixteen years of age and have been outside of the county a time or two, are going to settle the entire question in a duelling to-night. I understand, too, that while they are at it they will fix things so there will never be any more wars. So I shall be able to inform you in full tomorrow morning."

THIEVES STEAL RECORDSWORTH$270

Phonograph records valued at $270 were stolen from the music stores of E. Winter's Sons and W. H. Rider. Friday afternoon by two young thieves in the boldest theft for some time. Rider's stock of records was first raided and later the daring thieves repeated their performance at Winter's store, both robberies taking place between 12 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The robbery at Winter's store was noticed at 5 o'clock in the afternoon while it was not discovered at Rider's until Saturday morning.

The two young men, well dressed, entered Rider's store about 12 o'clock and asked to hear some records. There was only one clerk present at the time and the smaller man listened to the records in the booth while the other smoked outside in the store, being informed that smoking was not allowed inside the booth.

While the records were being played the larger man said that he was going to look for a young lady who was shopping on Wall street and he returned in about five minutes. At that time another salesman returned from his lunch and the first was relieved. The men bought two records and then both left.

At Winter's they followed the same scheme, coming in the store at 2 o'clock and listening to some of the records. While the saleslady was in the other room of the store getting change, the thieves tucked away about $170 worth of records, being especially partial to the four dollar records.

No loss to the stock was noticed until five o'clock when a customer asked to hear a certain $4 record. Then inventory was taken and it was found that about $170 worth had been stolen.

Rider's store was notified Saturday morning to be on the lookout for the two men and if they appeared, the salesmen were to call up Winter's. Up to that time, no one had noticed anything wrong with the record stock and a search revealed that records to the value of $190 had been stolen, the entire stock of fifteen $4 records having been taken, with others.

To conceal such a large amount of records under overcoats was a difficult task and showed the cleverness of the thieves. When the large man went out to look for his "young lady," he apparently adopted the stock of $4 records and upon his return, stole the remainder, while the smaller fellow kept the salesmen busy playing records. The theft at Winter's required just as clever work but in this instance the records were stolen while the saleslady was in an outer room.

The police were notified at once as well as music stores along the river. No clue of the whereabouts of the thieves has been discovered by the police thus far.

TRANSPORT ENCAMPMENT IN MEXICO.

HOW OUR WAGON TRAINS CAMP IN MEXICO.

This photograph shows United States army transport wagons in triangular formation during a brief journey from the border to General Pershing's troops. The wagons are so arranged that they would be of great service as defense works in the event of a Mexican attack. The formation is somewhat similar to that used by frontier-men with their prairie schooners to prepare for Indian attacks.

ST. JOHN'S RECTOR RESIGNS.

The Rev. Charles F. Kennedy to Enter New Field of Work.

The Rev. Charles F. Kennedy, for the last four years rector of St. John's Episcopal Church on Wall street, announced to members of his congregation Easter Sunday morning his intention of resigning from the pastorate to enter a new field of labor elsewhere. As no knowledge of such step had become known, the announcement was a distinct surprise and the source of many expressions of regret among communicants of this parish where the Rev. Mr. Kennedy has done notable work.

The resignation has not yet been considered by the vestry of the church and it is not known what action will be taken. It is thought likely the resignation will endeavor to have the rector reconsider his intention because of the successful results which have marked his service here.

SHERIFF SHULTIS GETS A SURPRISE

On a pretext of having captured a desperate criminal who was confined in the sheriff's office, Sheriff Shultis was lured into his office in the court house this morning and presented with an Elk's tooth watch charm by a number of his friends. Shortly after 10 o'clock as the sheriff mounted the steps to the court house he was informed that a long wanted criminal had been captured and was then in the office. As Sheriff Shultis opened the door instead of being set upon by a desperate man he saw five of his friends seated in the office calmly awaiting his arrival.

Captain B. J. Hornbeck, as spokesman for the assembled friends, arose and after making a short speech in which he told of the high esteem in which Sheriff Shultis was held by his many friends, presented in behalf of those present a handsome gold mounted Elk's tooth watch charm. So overcome was the sheriff by this sudden burst of kind things said and done that words failed him at this critical point and he was only able to accept with a brief thanks.

Those who had entered the conspiracy and enticed Mr. Shultis into the room on a pretext of having captured the desperate criminal were Under Sheriff Scott D. Hornbeck, Jailer Seth Jocelyn, Irving Nestell, Captain B. J. Hornbeck and E. Otis Van Aken.

ST. JAMES'S CHURCH CROWDED.

Appreciative Congregation to Hear Cantata and Sermon.

St. James's Church Sunday evening was crowded to its utmost capacity, overflowing from the main body of the church into the Sunday school room, which was almost crowded. The choir rendered the Cantata, "The Glory of the Resurrection," by Spross. Under the direction of Floyd H. Vogt, the choir certainly shows good training and is now a body that the church might well be proud of. The rendition showed throughout marks of perfection, the voices blended beautifully. Edith Hallett Frank assisted the choir as soprano soloist and she and Mr. Vogt opened the program with a duet, Easter Tide, by Vandewater. This number was very artistically rendered, the voices harmonizing splendidly. Miss Frank showed her ability in her work, she is an artist of no little note. Her voice is a beautiful dramatic lyric soprano and in addition she has a charming personality. The congregation surely enjoyed a treat in hearing Miss Frank sing. Arthur Carr assisted the choir as bass soloist and it might well be said that Mr. Carr never did better work, his voice was rich and he sang with the style of a noted artist. Kingston might well be proud to have a person with such a beautiful voice. Miss Margaret Angle took the contralto solo, and she certainly has a brilliant future. She should follow in the footsteps of her sister.

Dr. Barraganath delivered a fine sermon after the cantata taken from the theme of the work. He described the Resurrection of Christ in a forceful and vivid manner, which held the congregation every moment throughout. Kingston people should avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Dr. Barraganath preach.

After the sermon and during the offertory Miss Frank rendered a very dramatic solo, which showed decidedly her real ability. This was certainly a very beautiful service and Mr. Vogt is to be congratulated on the fine musical program.

Lady Autoist Fined.

Mrs. Salina Mitchell of West Chestnut street was arrested on Broadway on Saturday afternoon for driving her electric runabout without a license plate. The arrest was made by Policeman James Lawrence. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Mitchell pleaded guilty before Recorder Lang and was fined $5 which she paid. She said that she did not realize the gravity of the offense.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

New York, April 24.—(Cleveland fans are performing a baseball comeback. The attendance for the first four games of 1916 equalled one-third of the total attendance at the 77 games in 1915—a truly amazing record.

This Speaker's presence on the team is one of the big factors in causing the return of the prodigal fan. There isn't a doubt as to Speaker's drawing powers. But it isn't "Spoke" alone who has brought about better baseball conditions in Cleveland. The chance of ownership has been another mighty drawing power.

The "Sixth City" fans had grown a bit tired of the Somers regime. They became utterly disgusted when Joe Jackson was sold in 1915. But the coming of new owners, with the promise that the team will be built up instead of wrecked still further, has revived interest in the fortunes of the club.

Furthermore, this is an "on" year in baseball. Last season was different. Baseball interest then was at low ebb. Now it's at flood tide. And everything looks rather rosy for the new owners of the Cleveland club. The acquisition of Speaker hasn't given Cleveland a pennant winning look. But it has strengthened the aggregation and imbued it with the fighting spirit. Next to having a having a pennant, battling out the best thing is to have one that beats—and fights every minute.

Cleveland Deserves Winner.

Cleveland fans really deserve a pennant as a reward for their loyalty for more than a generation. The Ohio city first secured a National League franchise back in 1879. With the exception of five years—between 1884 and 1889—it has been in one or the other of the big leagues. Yet never over that sweep of time has a pennant flag waved over its ball park.

The Ohioans have sent over 30 entries into the big league races—and none ever came back a winner. Each springtime has found the Clevelanders with hopes high but in the end they have been dashed to the ground. The history of baseball in Cleveland is one long chapter of disappointments.

And yet, the Cleveland fans have remained faithful. There have been times when they were supported in a meagre way only because the team itself was such a joke combination, yet, on the whole, the fans there have been generous to an extreme.

Twice in modern history have

Cleveland teams been within striking distance of their goal—a pennant. And on both of those occasions the baseball enthusiasm in Cleveland increased to a frenzy of excitement, swept through the town and practically engulfed it.

The 1908 Disappointment.

Back in 1908 Cleveland lost the pennant by half a game. Had a great catchers, but the sorrow and anguish could not have been greater. The city was in semi-mourning for days afterward. That shows how they take baseball in Cleveland—a town of real fans.

On that day in 1908 when Cleveland was scheduled to play its last two games with St. Louis in the Missouri city, practically all the offices and shops were deserted after 3 p. m. The town congregated before the newspaper score boards to watch the result. Everything else in life was forgotten save that Cleveland had two games to play and that by winning both it would win the highest honors in baseball.

The details of the game were magnified. Wild roars of applause swept through the downtown district every time a Cleveland player performed some valiant deed. But when the final score was posted—the score that showed Cleveland had lost the game and the pennant because Bill Hinchman had loafed on a drive—a moan rolled from every throat. Sorrow fled the city.

Vain Hopes of 1913.

Cleveland waited five years—and then another team shot along toward the pennant goal. It was Joe Birmingham's 1913 outfit. Almost until the clubs raced into the October stretch, the Clevelandites held second position, within striking distance of the Athletics. And then they went east on the final swing along the Atlantic seaboard. The critical games were to be played. Cleveland had unlimited faith in its team.

But the Naps suffered six successive beatings in their first six games on that trip—and the pennant dreams became a third place nightmare.

Some day Cleveland may have a bunting winner. If that ever comes to pass, the folks there will become as wildly excited about it that the state legislature will have to appropriate immediately for new booby batches.

KOSHER BUTCHERS AGAIN ARRESTED

The Three Local Butchers Awaiting Trial for Sabbath Breaking Were Arrested Sunday Charged With the Same Offense—Trial Adjourned to Wednesday.

Policeman John G. Boyd on Sunday rounded up Isaac Farber, Louis Ambur and David Farber, three down town kosher butchers, on a charge of selling meat on Sunday in violation of the law. The three men were released on their promise to appear in recorder's court this morning to answer to the charge.

The three butchers informed Recorder Lang this morning that in other cities butcher shops kept open and they believed they had a right to sell meat on that day as their shops have been kept closed on various days due to the Jewish holidays at this season.

The recorder informed them that the law was very explicit in regard to butcher shops being kept closed on the Sabbath.

The three were arrested a short time ago charged with the same offense of selling meat on Sunday and the trial was adjourned until Wednesday of this week. Recorder Lang adjourned the present case against them until Wednesday also, when he will dispose of the first charge before taking up this second offense.

The other day Jacob Siller, another kosher butcher, who was arrested for selling meat on Sunday, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $5 and given a suspended sentence.

HOT LINERS

Were the Nationals ever Cardinals? Pirates Giants? White Sox Red Sox? Phillies Yankees? Braves Browns? Cubs Reds? Tigers Dodgers? Athletics Indians?

Reports have it that Matty's arm is in good shape. This will be good news for John McGraw.

One hit, a double by Viox was all the Pirates could garner from McConnell, the Cub twirler.

The Tigers staked several rallies against the White Sox but at the finish they were one run shy.

Another extra inning game was staged when the Cardinals won out in the 12th over the Reds.

Fred Fulton, who used to do plastering before he took up the fighting game, hopes to take up his old trade Friday, when he meets Al Reich in a ten-round bout.

The third base jinx still pursues John McGraw. Not since Art Devlin faded into the minors has the Giants leader been free from worry over that corner. Slater quit. Horvitz was traded. Stock flivvered, and now Robert is wounded, probably beyond baseball recovery.

Rally at Plattekill.

A prohibition rally in the M. E. Church at Nanapanoch on Sunday evening, May 7, at 8 o'clock, Major Dan Morgan Smith will be the speaker. Major Smith's address will be part of a campaign of a thousand meetings which the Anti-Saloon League has begun in New York state with the intention of affecting the congressional representation to be chosen next fall.

A Statesman Set Right.

Even those who pride themselves upon correct speech frequently use phrases that are either "impossible" or ungrammatical. A statesman said recently that "he did not belong to a certain club." "Belong." Certainly he was not "the property, the appendage or the attribute" of the club. He should have said that he was not a member.—London Answers.

Time For Haste.

A little five-year-old miss has a stepfather, of whom she is very fond. One day the stepfather suffered from a violent headache, and his wife went to the kitchen to prepare some domestic remedy. Lillian waited quietly for some time for her mother to return and re- here she suffered. Looking pettish, she went to the kitchen door and energetically called out:

"Mamma, if you don't hurry up you're going to have another husband to bury."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Oath That Binds the Burmese.

Perjury having been rife in Rangoon courts because no form of oath existed which the Burman considered binding, the government prescribed a formula which is a queer admixture of Buddhism, Brahmanism and Shamanism. Here are phrases from it, picked at random: "If an untruth passes my lips, may all the gnats that live in lakes, ponds and brooks and the gnats of the five great rivers of India destroy me. May curdled blood pass my lips rather than a lie, and may I die vomiting blood, my body bent in two."
